We know that learning does not begin and end at school. Parents are the first	and most important teacher of their child. When we work together as partners, your child will succe	eed, reach his/her individual potential, and become a contributing member of society.
We are all committed to and his/h	ner progress in school; we are going to commit to a comprehensive system of support to assure this outc	ome. We will combine effort, interest, and motivation to promote his/her achievement.
