What is Title I?

With the passing of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA) of 1965, Title I was a key part of President Lyndon B. Johnson's program to help the poor. Using a poverty-based formula, Title I, Part A, allocates funds to 90 % of the nation's school districts to offset the effects of poverty on the educational opportunities of low-performing children in high-poverty schools. This focus continued with the reauthorization of ESEA in 2015, Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA). The Basic Title I program is administered by state education agencies (SEAs) and conducted by local educational agencies (LEAs). To qualify for funding, SEAs submit plans to the federal Education Department (ED). Similarly, LEAs submit their Title I plans to the SEAs. The school then qualifies for services based upon the percentage of low-income students attending the school. The monies that flow to a school are based upon this number. The district shall use Title I funds only to supplement the amount of funds that would be otherwise available from nonfederal sources.

The Title I program in Nassau County has one goal: To improve the teaching and learning of children in high-poverty schools. To accomplish this goal, Title I supports school instructional activities and programs that are designed, implemented, and evaluated by those constituencies at the school level. While the District Title I office plays a critical role through providing consultation, coordination, and professional development, the major component of the Title I program is that of parent involvement and parent evaluation. Each school site depends greatly upon the opinions, assistance, and support from participating parents.

While all Title I schools in the Nassau School District Title I program are school-wide programs, models consist of:

- Small Group instruction provided by paraprofessionals that meet applicable State certification and licensure requirements, in which students are provided instruction on a more individualized basis and focused intensive instruction based on data-driven instructional needs;
- In-class, in which Title I children receive extra assistance in the same setting and time period as their regular peers, usually in a small group instruction format;
- After school tutoring to remediate students in reading and math instruction.

The design of each program:

- is to assist children in meeting the state's challenging academic standards expected of all children
- utilizes effective methods and instructional strategies that are based upon scientifically based research that strengthens the core academic program
- gives primary consideration to providing extended learning time
- helps to provide an accelerated, high-quality curriculum, including applied learning
- minimizes removing children from the regular classroom
- ensures support and coordination with the regular classroom teacher
- provides strategies to increase meaningful family engagement opportunities
- provides integration activities for staff and curriculum development

Title I School Responsibilities:

- Establish strategies that provide all students an opportunity to meet the B.E.S.T. Standards
- Provide remediation to students experiencing difficulty mastering the B.E.S.T. Standards
- Develop a school-based Parent and Family Engagement Plan jointly with parents
- Hold an annual Title I open house for parents
- Prepare a School/Parent Compact jointly with parents, teachers, and students
- Offer a needs assessment survey to parents
- Offer professional development for teachers
- Follow best practices regarding delivery of instruction
- Create strategies to increase parent involvement to include authentic parent/teacher conferencing
- Establish effective transitions from early childhood programs into kindergarten
- Include teachers and parents in decision making processes

Is my child's school a Title I school?

The schools in Nassau County that qualify as Title I schools are eligible based upon the percentage of poverty children enrolled in that school. The February 2023 FTE (Full Time Equivalent) Count, along with the Free/Reduced Lunch Counts, determine which schools have a 40% and above poverty level and qualify for Title I funds and services. Those schools qualifying as Title I schools for 2023-2024 are:

Bryceville Elementary School
Callahan Elementary School
Callahan Intermediate School
Emma Love Hardee Elementary School

Hilliard Elementary School
Southside Elementary School
Yulee Elementary School
Yulee Primary School

The eligible schools are charged with the task of budgeting of allocations, design of program, implementation of the program, and adherence to federal regulations. While a brief synopsis of the plan for each qualifying school follows, a complete copy of each school's Title I/School Improvement Plan is available in the school's front office, the media center, and on the school's web page.

Bryceville Elementary School's Title I Program is a school-wide intervention program, which allows our school to provide intensive interventions for all students. Qualified faculty and staff, funded by Title I, deliver proactive and remedial services through direct, small group instruction. Additionally, Title I funds are used to purchase materials, supplies, and manipulatives for daily instruction and extended day tutoring opportunities. We view parental involvement as a vital component of our Title I services; therefore newsletters and meetings are provided to assist parents with materials and skills to work with their children at home. The goals of the Title I Program are to ensure a high-quality education for every child, to provide opportunity for all students to succeed in the classroom, and to build a strong foundation in English Language Arts, Mathematics, Science, and Social Studies curriculum in grades Kindergarten through Fifth.

Callahan Elementary School's goals of the Title I Program are to ensure a high quality education for every child, to help students succeed in the classroom, and to build a strong foundation in literacy and readiness skills. Students will receive academic support through small group instruction and personalized teaching. Parental involvement is very important and is seen as a vital component to the success of this program, therefore workshops, newsletters, and meetings are provided to assist parents with materials and skills to work with their child at home. Title I funds are used for personnel salaries, professional development, and the purchase of supplies and materials to assist the students in their instruction.

Callahan Intermediate School's Title I program is designed to provide remedial services to students not meeting proficiency of state standards by providing intensive interventions in reading, math, writing, and/or science. We will deliver the remedial services through the direct instruction of trained certified teachers as well as assistance from paraprofessional staff. Title I funds will be used to purchase materials, supplies, and manipulatives for small group instruction as well as after school tutorial services. Title I funds will also be used to provide professional development for teachers and parental involvement opportunities for parents.

Emma Love Hardee Elementary School's Title I Program will be implemented school-wide to those students in grades 3-5 who need intensive interventions in core subject areas to successfully master the elementary curriculum. Qualified paraprofessionals and teachers will utilize the small group model as well as in-school support instruction to remediate deficiencies in reading and math during the school day. An after-hours tutoring program led by the Reading Coach will also be available to supplement daily instruction in reading. Title I funds will be allocated for personnel salaries, professional/curriculum development, and the purchase of supplies and materials to support small group instruction, in-school support sessions and parent involvement activities.

Hilliard Elementary School's Title I Program is a school-wide program that supports quality instruction for all students. Our program provides classroom support for reading and math via small group instruction with particular focus on at-risk students. Title 1 monies provide additional personnel and materials to supplement our regular instruction to help all students make adequate progress each year. Paraprofessionals provide after school tutoring for students that are identified as struggling or in the lowest quartile. Title 1 funds also support our Parental Involvement and staff development activities conducted throughout the year.

Southside Elementary School's Title I Program has been created to enhance and support the total school instructional program in grades K-2. With the belief that children who are "at risk" can best be served with educator contact, allocations are used to hire paraprofessionals to supplement the instruction provided by the classroom teachers. Students receive intensive instruction in small groups and remedial assistance in both Reading and Math on a daily basis as individual needs warrant. Title I funds are used to purchase supplies, materials, and manipulatives for instruction and to support our parent involvement programs.

Yulee Elementary School's Title I program is designed with the belief that children who are "at risk" can best be served with qualified personnel. Therefore, allocations are used to hire full time paraprofessionals to help supplement the regular curriculum teachers. Students receive intensive instruction in small groups or one-on-one instruction from these staff members to remediate the content areas of reading, math, and writing as individual needs warrant. Additionally, instruction is further supplemented with several different technology programs to meet the needs of our diverse learners.

Yulee Primary School's Title I Program enhances and supports the total school instructional program. As a school-wide model, Title I paraprofessionals serve each classroom on campus to provide students with additional reading support during small group instruction. Paraprofessionals are also utilized before, during, and after school for a tutoring program that provides additional intensive instruction to students who are most in need. Title I funds are used for personnel salaries, staff development opportunities, parental involvement nights, and the purchase of materials and supplies to supplement instruction.

Is my child eligible for Title I services?

All Title I programs in the Nassau County School district are school-wide. Students are served upon identification and evidence of an academic need. The participation in the federal lunch program has absolutely no bearing upon the individual student's participation in the Title I program. Economically disadvantaged, Migrant, LEP (Limited English Proficient), and Exceptional Education Students shall be entitled to equal access to the Title I program if they meet the eligibility criteria, as established for any student. A child who has participated in a Head Start or Even Start program in the 2 years preceding is eligible for services. Exceptional Education Students will be eligible for services if the members of the Individual Educational Plan staffing committee deem it appropriate.

How is my child's school evaluated?

State Law- Florida's A+ Plan, School Grades - School grades (A through F) are based on how well students have mastered Florida's Benchmarks for Excellent Student Thinking (B.E.S.T.) Standards (the skills Florida teachers determined our children must learn at each grade level), which are measured by the Florida Assessment of Student Thinking (F.A.S.T.) and the Florida State Assessment Test (FCAT 2.0) in Science. Student scores are classified into five achievement levels, with 1 being the lowest and 5 being the highest, and/or their percentile rank. Schools earn points based on three things: 1. how well students in each subgroup (all ethnic groups, students with disabilities, students learning English, and economically disadvantaged students) are doing, 2. how much progress they are making (learning gains), and 3. how much progress struggling readers are making (since reading is essential to success in all subject areas). For additional information on school grades, visit the Department of Education website at www.fldoe.org.

PRIVATE SCHOOL STUDENTS

LEAs must consult with eligible private school officials on delivery of services. Annually a survey is conducted to solicit participation from DOE approved private schools.

MIGRANT EDUCATION PROGRAMS

All identified migrant students attending schools in Nassau County will be assisted through the use of Title I, Part A funds to address identified academic needs.

HOMELESS YOUTH

A homeless student attending any school in Nassau County will be eligible for Title I services. These students are usually identified through each school's guidance services department or the Intervention Teams.

CHARTER SCHOOLS

Any Charter School, which has received approval for operation from the Nassau County School Board, may be served by Title I like any other public school based upon eligibility.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTION:

What can I, as a parent/grandparent/guardian, do to help my child become a better reader?

Any home reading activity should have as its ultimate goal the development of a "love of reading." Parents who like to read and are able to convey this feeling of pleasure to their child(ren) are performing the most important activity to help foster a "love of reading". While the school has the major responsibility for the actual teaching of formal reading, its program can accomplish little without the strong support of the home.

Establishing a home reading program is a very worthwhile activity for any parent desiring to help their child. It does not cost a great deal of money. It is not how much a parent can spend, but rather the degree of interest and concern that makes the difference. There can be no better reading example for a child to follow than a parent who frequently reads in the home. At the point when reading becomes a chore or an unpleasant experience for the child it should be ended until a time when you realize the child is ready to continue. Reading should never be used as a disciplinary measure. It would be much better to use reading as a special time with the parent and as a positive way to spend time together.

Successful reading is not just saying all the words correctly, but also understanding what is read. For comprehension to take place, a child should be exposed to as many and as varied experiences as possible by the parent. The young person who has been to the zoo, a farm, or the airport is, of course, in a much better position to respond correctly when he/she encounters these things on a page in a book. The parents who are willing to provide much conversation in the home, as well as a rich and varied background of experiences for their children, are really preparing them to become better readers when they begin formal instruction. So plan to talk about things a lot, take family field trips, and discuss concepts as they come up in normal day to day life.

Other General Suggested Activities:

- See that each child has a personal bookshelf or space for storing his/her reading materials. This can be as simple as a crate or cardboard box.
- Try to arrange some time each day or every other day when you can read aloud to your child.
- Make bedtime special and include reading activities in your routine
- Do not compare the progress of your child with their siblings or any other child. Each individual has unique abilities, interests and learning calendars.
- Be aware of your child's health, since it is of prime importance for success in reading, especially vision and hearing.
- Have a public library card for each member of your family and make each trip to the library an exciting adventure of discovery.
- Show an active interest in all school activities; know your child's teachers and encourage good communication between your home and your school.
- Even if the situation arises when you experience a misunderstanding with school personnel, try to remain positive in the presence of your child. They learn so very much from your example about life and how to solve problems in the future.
- Stay in touch with your child's teacher.

EVERY STUDENT SUCCEEDS ACT PARENTS RIGHT TO KNOW

(ii) timely notice that the student has been assigned, or has been taught for 4 or more consecutive weeks by, a teacher who does not meet applicable State certification or licensure requirements at the grade level and subject area in which the teacher has been assigned.

Complaint Procedures for ESSA

Section 8304(a)(3)(C) of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 as amended by the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA) of 2015 requires states to adopt written procedures for the receipt and resolution of complaints alleging violations of law in the administration of the programs under ESSA.

Nassau County School District Parent and Family Engagement Plan 2023-2024

Parent and Family Engagement Mission Statement:

The parent and family engagement mission of the Nassau School district is to involve parents in regular, two-way, and meaningful communication involving student academic learning (weekly communication folders, parent conferences, school reach messages), as well as other school activities (parent and family engagement nights).

How will you involve parents and family members in jointly developing the LEA Plan?

Parents are encouraged to participate in the Title I Survey and the SAC committee through newsletters, announcements, and flyers. Nassau County School District uses survey data and SAC meetings to involve parents in the PFEP LEA Plan and decisions on how the reservation will be spent. Parent comments are reviewed and discussed by principals, the Title I parent group, and the Title I Coordinator. Upon reflection of the feedback, changes are made.

How will you provide the coordination, technical assistance, and other support necessary to assist and build the capacity of all participating schools within the LEA in planning and implementing effective parent and family involvement activities to student academic achievement and school performance, which may include meaningful consultation with employers, business leaders, and philanthropic organizations, or individuals with expertise in effectively engaging parents and family members in education?

Each school will conduct PFE workshop activities to assist parents in understanding the curriculum and how to help their child achieve. The LEA will provide Title I Handbooks to parents including content such as ESSA Parents-Right-To Know details, etc. The Program Manager will review school-level PFEP policies utilizing a rubric (Section 1116 as supplied by FLDOE), and will take the following actions: 1. Require that each SIP contains PFE strategies, 2. Collaborate with school leadership to provide technical assistance regarding effective PFE activities, 3. Attend local SAC meetings or open house/annual Title I activities to present PFE information, and 4. Monitor the implementation of each school's PFEP through the year by examining parent sign-in sheets and purchase orders, as well as parent participation in the SAC and PTO. Parents have opportunities through the year to make requests for activities and/or services via their principal that will help them better assist their child.

A. List each specific activity.	B. Provide the frequency and duration of each activity.	C. Using the most current evidence-based research, detail how it supports the activity(ies) being implemented.	D. What method(s) will be used to evaluate the implementation & effectiveness of the activity(ies) listed and how often will this evaluation occur?
Schools will be supported and encouraged to build positive relationships with community partners and businesses.	August-May	Business partners and community organizations are necessary for supporting our schools. These supports help students directly by providing financial assistance, increasing supplies, books, and other resources that increase achievement. According to School, Family, and Community Partnerships: Your Handbook for Action by Joyce L. Epstein and Associates "When schools and communities partner to provide services and supports for students, measurable benefits result. School-community partnerships focused on academic subjects have been shown to enhance students' attitudes toward and efforts in these subjects, as well as the attitudes of teachers and parents."	The contributions of these organizations will be present on parent night agendas. SAC Committees will evaluate the effectiveness of these contributions for future support.

How will you coordinate and integrate parent and family engagement strategies under this part with parent and family engagement strategies, to the extent feasible and appropriate with other relevant federal, state, and local laws and programs?

Title I, Part A personnel support school administrators in joint meetings with Head Start and CARRT in providing programs for transition activities for various preschool programs. We support the use of Child Find services and IDEA so that a free appropriate public education can be made available to all eligible children. The Elementary Education Director attends joint meetings with the Clay, Nassau, Baker, and Bradford Early Learning Coalition and communicates necessary needs. We coordinate with Episcopal Children's Services to ensure we offer a summer voluntary preschool program. We assist the Title IX Homeless Program with individual student needs. In addition, we contribute the remainder of the Homeless liaison's salary that is unable to be funded through the Title IX grant to ensure the stability of this program. We work with Title III to assist parents/children with English language acquisition. We work with Title II to ensure school personnel receive needs driven PD.

How will you conduct, with meaningful involvement of parents and family members, an annual evaluation of the content and effectiveness of the parent and family engagement policy in improving the academic quality of all schools served under this part?

We will conduct an annual evaluation of the content and effectiveness of our PFEP. We will identify barriers to greater participation by parents in PFE activities (with particular attention paid to parents who are economically disadvantaged, are disabled, have limited English proficiency, have limited literacy, or are of any racial or ethnic minority background). We will use the evaluation findings to revise our PFE policies. We will: 1. Ensure the district SAC annually reviews/ revises the evaluation on a needed basis, 2. Survey parents/staff to get feedback and evaluate the district PFEP, 3. Include PFE questions in climate surveys of all district schools, 4. Utilize PFE online surveys and provide a paper/pencil option, 5. Ensure forms are culturally sensitive to all backgrounds, 6. Ensure administrators utilize survey results for planning the next year's project, 7. Maintain documented proof (sign-in sheets, agendas).

Barriers:

A. Content/Purpose	B. Description of the Activity
Effective communication	Weekly folders, newsletters, Blackboard Messenger, Remind app, school website, Facebook, Focus webpages, and positive parent contact via teachers and administrators
Building capacity of parents	Open House and Parent-Teacher Conferences- Parents were given an opportunity to meet with their child's teacher and learn about how they can assist their child at home. Family Nights/Workshops- Events integrate the standards and current skills being taught in the classroom and ensure parents leave with manipulatives that allow them to implement what they learned at home.

How will you identify evidence-based strategies for more effective parental involvement?

A. List each specific activity.	B. Provide the frequency and duration of each activity.	C. Detail how current evidence-based research indicated the activity(ies) would be effective, or likely to be effective, in improving student achievement.	D. What method(s) were used to evaluate the implementation and effectiveness of the activity(ies) listed and how often did this evaluation occur?
Parent and Family Engagement Principal Training- Principals' Meeting where administrators become more aware of the value and utility of parent contributions; how to reach out to, communicate with, and work with parents as equal partners; how to implement and coordinate parent programs; and how to build school/home ties.	One meeting district-wide per year/one hour	According to School, Family, and Community Partnerships: Your Handbook for Action by Joyce L. Epstein and Associates "District facilitators must provide ongoing professional development and technical assistance to all school Action Teams for Partnerships (ATPs) to keep improving the quality of their partnership programs and practices every year."	We will keep record of participation at Principal PFE trainings. We will also keep record of parent function agendas to ensure the strategies and methods were implemented at parent nights. In addition, the LEA will visit schools regularly to ensure strategies and methods are being followed through.
Parent and Family Engagement Teacher Training- School Staff Meetings where teachers will become more aware of the value and utility of parent contributions; how to reach out to, communicate with, and work with parents as equal partners; how to implement and coordinate parent programs; and how to build school/home ties.	Eight (one per school per year/one hour)	According to School, Family, and Community Partnerships: Your Handbook for Action by Joyce L. Epstein and Associates "Teamwork at the school level ensures that one person working alone is not in charge of parents. Rather, all partners in education work together on the partnership agenda for student success in school."	We will keep record of participation at Teacher PFE trainings. We will also keep record of parent function agendas to ensure the strategies and methods were implemented at parent nights. In addition, the LEA will visit schools regularly to ensure strategies and methods are being followed through.
Parental and Family Engagement Training- Parent Orientation where parents will become familiar with ways in which they can actively participate within their child's school community (disseminate and train on volunteer handbook).	Eight (one per school per year/one hour)	According to School, Family, and Community Partnerships: Your Handbook for Action by Joyce L. Epstein and Associates "Providing meaningful volunteer opportunities and recognizing families for their contributions leads to innovative volunteer engagement."	We will keep sign-in sheets to determine parent attendance. School SAC Committees will discuss the effectiveness of this event and whether changes need to be made. If something is ineffective, the SAC Committee will develop a plan to correct it.

How will you involve parents in the activities of the schools?

A. List each specific activity.	B. Provide the frequency and duration of each activity.	C. Detail how current evidence-based research indicated the activity(ies) would be effective, or likely be effective, in improving student achievement.	D. What method(s) were used to evaluate the implementation & effectiveness of the activity(ies) listed and how often did this evaluation occur?
PFE Workshops/Parent Nights based on curriculum (Math, ELA, Science, STEAM)	August-May (two hours each/approximately 5 per school)	Parents gain knowledge of strategies to use in strengthening their child's math, reading, science, technology, and art skills; the state's academic standards; and state and local assessments. Supports parents by building their capacity to help their child at home. According to School, Family, and Community Partnerships: Your Handbook for Action by Joyce L. Epstein and Associates "School-community partnerships focused on academic subjects have been shown to enhance students' attitudes toward and efforts in these subjects, as well as the attitudes of teachers and parents."	At the end of each PFE Workshop/Parent Night, parents are asked to complete a survey to determine the effectiveness of the event in meeting its anticipated goal. Parents provide comments and feedback, which is then reviewed at upcoming SAC Meetings. This information is used to evaluate the implementation and effectiveness of the activity. The surveys occur after each parent function. The SAC Meetings occur once per month.
